The Great Start Readiness Program (GSRP) utilizes Teaching Strategies Gold to assess and track student growth on an individual on-going basis. It is an observation based system that looks at the whole child in the following areas: social-emotional, physical, language, cognitive, mathematics, and literacy. Students are assessed 3 times per year: Fall/November, Winter/February, and Spring/May. Mid Year Report: Winter testing does not begin until February however, this anecdotal report has been given: Following the fall checkpoint, the teaching team used the data to set goals for each student. Through intentional planning and individualized instruction, the students have shown consistent growth in all areas of development. Based on the teacher's daily observations since November, students that were once below expectations are meeting them and students that were meeting expectations are now exceeding them. End of Year Report:
